COBRA REEL DISK

It's time to say hello again to an old friend! This summer we will begin production of the new 4100 Series Cobra Reel Disk as an addition to the current models. The Reel Disk is a proven, popular tool, and now with the Cobra Model, it is the most aggressive Vertical Tillage Tool available.

The 4100 Series Cobra Reel Disk provides the same great performance that thousands of growers have come to rely on coupled with today's sharpest, most aggressive cutting ability for tackling the toughest soil and residue conditions.

The Cobra Disk Blades are manufactured for McFarlane by Ingersoll. They combine a proprietary boron alloy steel with unique processing technology to provide hardness, flexibility, sharpness and wear resistance. They are available in both standard (5mm) and heavy-duty (6.5mm).

NEW for 2017

Cobra Disk Blades are also available in a Heavy-Duty size that resist chipping and cracking in rocky conditions and offer great penetration in otherwise impossible hard soil conditions.

Production is scheduled to begin in late summer for delivery in early September, 2017.
